

Properties and Functions of the Genesa® Globe & Baby Genesa®

The Design's Intention

The Genesa is designed to create a good, stable, all-around piece that helps a person stay balanced, open and yet protected when going through life, planetary, and universal transitions. How your life manifests is a reflection of your innermost thought patterns. A person's energy becomes blocked when tensions build up within. Though the specific things that trigger tension are unique to each person, the common roots related to tension are the same for all: external situations where there is an onslaught of negativity, frustration, and aggression that pull you out of balance with your core essence. The myriad of sources of the negativity can include relationships, the media, public events, personal circumstances, and so on. The point to being in a balanced state, then, is to create a life that strengthens and supports the full expression of your core essence, your divine nature. "Genesa", or "Genes Seeing" is also a Sanskrit term for removing obstacles to spiritual fulfillment.

The Design's Properties

The Genesa Globe contains nine key properties that help you explore, gain insights to, and change the dynamics of the organizing forces influencing your life. It is one of the key patterns through which all energy flows. Your physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual inner workings are the organizing forces of your life¹. The Genesa® pattern is but one of many natural patterns through which energy flows. This simple pattern creates an energetic shift that relaxes people enough to first release tension and then increase the flow of their energy, thus spurring their emotional growth.

The dynamics of the four intertwined bands that create the Genesa pattern creates a vibrational pattern that loosens, frees, and clears blocks in order to "roll" forward. The resulting "wire-frame" brings a type of organizing dynamic that stimulates simultaneous, incremental release of old tensions held and prevents buildup of new tension within a person's biological and energy bodies in manageable chunks, without compromising the stability of the whole. Once tensions are released, the wearer is more able and apt to overcome negatively charged energy. The wire-frame dynamics are what you can work with to build- in specific types of protection needed at specific times. These dynamics help the wearer maintain focus, clarity and balance, and reduce negative, reactive patterns during the often-chaotic times of change.

Though the geometry of this shape is most commonly known as the cube-octahedron, Buckminster Fuller called it the "cube equilibrium." This is because after Fuller studied this shape extensively, he concluded that this is the only geometric shape that contains all of the platonic solids within it! Dr. Derald Langham, a plant geneticist, called the shape "Genesa", as an acronym for Genetics South America (GeneSA). Dr. Langham found this simple, elegant pattern at the core of all carbon-based life forms. He used the Genesa pattern to organize and model relationships of various plant traits, in order to create new plant hybrids.

Property-1:

Property-1 has 6 functions. These functions serve as an energetic cleanser and conditioner for the wearer's environment. The effect extends in a ranges from 75'-100' in diameter for the (15mm) Genesa Globe and 35'-50' for the (11m) Baby Genesa.

Functions:

- a. It creates a bubble of calmness you take with you wherever you go.
- b. Creates a protective fence (energy field) that blocks and prevents absorption of externally-generated negativity, fear and anxiety, and resistance to change. Also protects you from externally generated hurtful intentions, revenge, hate, vengefulness, jealousy, and other imbalanced energies in your environment.
- c. Slowly clears out negative and fear-based energies and tension from your biological and energy bodies.
- d. This function serves as an environmental cleanser, gently releasing negative, unbalanced, unstable, darkened, emotional energies held in your immediate environment.
- e. It clears out and releases your own negativity aimed at others, such as harmful intentions, jealousy, greed, revenge, fear and anxiety, resistance to change, etc.
- f. It clears out and releases your own self-sabotaging patterns and negativity aimed at yourself, such as harmful intentions, jealousy, greed, revenge, fear and anxiety, resistance to change, additions, etc.

Properties and Functions of the Genesa® Globe & Baby Genesa®

Property-2:

Property-2 has four functions. These functions involve protecting the wearer from absorbing electromagnetic energy from cell phones, computers, TVs, etc.

Functions:

- a. Reduces absorption of externally generated electromagnetic energy patterns that interfere with your natural electro-magnetic patterns.
- c. Releases accumulated externally generated electromagnetic energy patterns that interfere with your natural electro-magnetic patterns.
- b. Rebalances your natural electro-magnetic patterns.
- d. Strengthens your natural electro-magnetic patterns.

Property-3:

Property-3 has five functions that instill calmness, balance, and stability when moving through the chaotic energy of change and transformation. Think of this huge energetic metamorphosis that is underway as if you are a nursery plant that is being transported to another location and environment.

Functions:

- a. Helps you maintain equilibrium of your physical, mental, emotional state when things in your life are in a state of flux and feel completely ungrounded and "up in the air".
- b. Helps you maintain your trust, faith, and confidence when old approaches upon which you relied to move through life no longer work or bring you success. It helps you maintain your trust, faith, and confidence when new approaches haven't yet taken root and you feel completely "in limbo." Brings you a sense of inner knowing and perspective that this is simply a transitory dynamic of change.
- c. Helps you get repeat glimmers of your own "authentic power base" and core essence. This helps you see beyond a your own "stance" into your core essence.
- d. Helps you get repeat glimmers of others "authentic power base" and core essence. This helps you see beyond a person's "stance" into their core essence. You'll see how far in or out of balance another's own power is thus diffusing your reaction to it. (i.e., you won't take things projected by others as personal).

Property-4:

Property-4 has one function that helps you identify the vibrational patterns and resonance that are key influences in your life.

Function:

- a) Enhances your ability to explore, gain insights to, and change the dynamics of the organizing forces influencing your life. Your physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual inner workings are the organizing forces of your life. The Genesa Globe pattern can be used to understand and map systems and relationships of these organizing forces.

Property-5:

Property-5 has five functions that open your ability to receive new ideas and clears obstacles to acting on them (both your own obstacles and the obstacles of others to around you).

Functions:

- a. Lubricates and enhances flexibility in the wearer's expansion membrane (etheric body) so changes are easier to process.
- b. Helps filter, absorb and integrate new ideas, context, and information.
- c. Lowers the energy of resistance to new ideas and changes (your own and that of others around you).
- d. Enhances and opens receptivity and acceptance to new ideas and to changes (your own and others around you).
- e. Helps you spontaneously see and follow the path of least resistance.

Properties and Functions of the Genesa® Globe & Baby Genesa®

Property-6:

Property-6 has one function – to amplify your intentions to the universe. Behind all resonance is intention (see Resonance). Intention is the act that sets the energetic architectural design of a specific vibrational pattern and resonance. Intention is the dynamic that begins all form. No form is created without the dynamics of intention. Intention is THE root and THE core essence of all form. Be careful what you ask for. Be very solid and clear about the purpose of each specific intention. Intention alone creates an unstable, uneven dynamic. Intention, when used with the related dynamics of Purpose and Direction creates stability needed to bring intention into form². Learning to work with the stable Intention-Purpose-Direction triad is one of the basic building blocks needed to master the dynamics of resonance. Mastering the ability of creating-maintaining-changing resonance is ultimately required to bring a state of divine balance to that which you create. Taking the first step of setting Intention-Purpose-Direction will trigger events and interactions that will present opportunities for you to learn about the interplay of Intention-Purpose-Direction with other vibrational dynamics, such as the energetic triad of expansion-contraction-timing.³ The purpose of working with the dynamics of Intention-Purpose-Direction is to help you fully (not just intellectually) understand and experience what moves you closer to or further from your innate state of divine balance in alignment with your current life phase and purpose.

Function:

- a. The relationship between the Genesa Globe's combined dynamics (of the bands, the ball, the wire frame) and the dynamics of Intention are significant.¹ The energetic dynamics of intertwined bands rotate like a gyroscope – each energetic band operates (speed, direction, and pulse) separately. The four intertwined bands give the shape the stability of a square. The stability of the intertwined bands is combined with the infinitely flexible dynamics of a globe (sphere/ball) shape. Used together, the dynamics of intention get the ball rolling (so to speak), and the dynamics of the Genesa Globe direct the Intention in total, perfect balance, order, and organization.

Property-7:

Property-7 has two functions that balance the dynamic of duality extremes that might be within you. (Examples: male w/ female, grounded practicality with etheric vision, good/bad, right/wrong, etc.) This property helps you relate to things as being closer to or further from a state of divine balance. Releases seeing things only via your agenda or your “stance”, your patterns.

Functions:

- a. Helps you identify, release, and balance those things within you that you express within yourself and those that you project onto others.
- b. Helps you identify, release, and balance those things externally expressed and externally projected that you tend to absorb.

Property-8:

Property-8 has three functions. This property of the Genesa helps you holistically and objectively see things as a process of moving into or out of a state of the divine balance of yourself, another person, or another form. Things don't go out of balance by themselves. There are always a myriad of relationships among a myriad of variables that influence the divine balance of a person, a relationship, an action, or a form.

Functions:

- a. Helps you start seeing energy of intention behind every action (yours and others).
- b. Helps you see and focus on the state of divine balance in the relationship between people and/or forms, rather than just focusing on the state of balance of the person or form itself.
- c. Helps you see the correlation between actions and intentions as something that contributes to or diminishes the divine balance of the relationship, person, or thing on the receiving end.

Property -9:

Property-9 has three functions that help you move thru places and times while traveling and visiting people that have patterns of resonance very different from yours. Immersion within old energetic frameworks, paradigms, and patterns causes a reverse-culture-shock type of reaction that can be very destabilizing.

Functions:

³ For more information about working with the dynamics of expansion-contraction-timing, see Properties and Functions for the Tune-Up Charm.

Properties and Functions of the Genesa® Globe & Baby Genesa®

- a. Helps prevent energetic immersion within old energetic frameworks, paradigms, and patterns caused during reunions, family gatherings, or when seeing or visiting someone or a place from the past.
- b. Helps prevent energetic impacts to your biological and energetic bodies from absorbing “battle energy” held in a geographic place.
- c. Helps stabilize and minimize impacts to your biological and energetic bodies resulting from plane, train, and automobile travel.
